Single in the Winter Mountains: 8-day experience

Experience Code: GS8XW3

Experience the beauty and peace of the Swedish mountains in the company of like-minded travellers. You can do ski tours with mountain guides on the mountain or take some "me" time to go skiing by yourself along the tracks close to the mountain station. One day you get to try telemark skiing, which will enable you to later enjoy the downhill slopes on the mountain much more. You can also brush up your cross-country skiing technique with one of the mountain station's experienced teachers. After fresh air and exercise in the snow, why not unwind with a session of yoga or Qi gong?

In the evenings you will enjoy three course in the mountain station restaurant. Wine tasting, enjoying the open fire in the common room - the enjoyments are many and varied. You can even book a massage, herbal bath or other spa treatments to take your relaxation to a new level!

Preliminary itinerary:

Sunday 30/3:

Arrival. Welcome information.

Monday 31/3 – Saturday 5/4:

Ski tours by yourself or joining the station's day tours, lunch outside during the tours. Telemark lesson and cross-country ski lesson, try Yoga and Qi gong, wine tasting. Free participation in other evening activities such as lectures, quizzes and musical entertainment.

Sunday 6/4:

Check out. Departure.

General information about the mountain station

What can I do myself?

Suggestions for different tours are available both in written form and from the staff at the mountain station. You can go for ski tours on your own with the help of written guides and well-marked trails in the area.

Day excursions:

There are both full day and half day excursions you can join during your stay. Half day excursions are 5 hours. Full day excursions are 6-7 hours. Please ask at the reception on arrival for available excursions during your stay.

Evening programmes:

Activities are provided almost every evening of the week, but they can vary throughout the season - most take place at the station but some are in the surrounding area.

Examples: slideshows, quizzes, music entertainment, try yoga, try Qi Gong, etc.

For some of the evening activities there is a small charge.

Please ask at the reception on arrival for evening activities during your stay.

Rental:

It is possible to rent equipment at the mountain station - complete outdoor equipment: everything from winter clothes, skis and ice-fishing equipment. Contact us for a list of equipment available and prices.

Store:

At the mountain station there is a wide range of outdoor equipment and also food such as bread, canned goods, dried fruit and veg, sausages, meat, fish, milk products and toiletries.

The sports store has a good range of clothes, boots, backpacks, fishing equipment, outdoor kitchens, maps etc.

Restaurant: The mountain station has a certified, fully-licensed restaurant.

Other facts:

Sauna is included for all the mountain station guests. There is also solarium and massage available at the station.

The mountain station has a mini spa, where treatments must be booked 3 weeks in advance. Full list of available treatments and information on how to book will be provided after booking.

The mountain station is situated just below the tree line and you can easily reach the mountain plains. Three national parks and large nature reserves offer you fantastic tours in untouched natural surroundings. Here you can still listen to the sound of silence.

Fixed dates for 2008 winter season:

30 March – 6 April 2008

Equipment/clothes needed:

NB: We advise you not to buy equipment or clothes for your trip or to incur other non-refundable expenses such as flights until you have received confirmation of your booking from us in writing.

Packing list (recommended):

To get most out of your stay, it is important that you go through your equipment and make sure it is OK. Do not make things too complicated just because you are going to the mountains. For day tours from the mountain station you do not need any advanced equipment, but check that everything is in good condition and will last during a week's stay in the mountains.

Here are some tips for suitable winter equipment:

Mountain skis with iron edges. 55-60 cm broad. Length approximately 20-30 cm longer than your own height. Skiing boots which are big enough to fit in thin socks and woollen socks and some insulating air. Poles with wide base for stability in loose snow. Gaiters to prevent snow getting in to your boots.

A basic foundation for a good mountain experience is the old layer principle - one inner layer which transports moisture away and lets out heat, one middle layer that keeps you warm but still lets the moisture out and one outer layer that allows the moisture to evaporate and protects against wind and weather. Good basic clothing is a long-sleeved, legged underwear set (inner layer), a sweater, shirt that dries easily (middle layer) and jacket and trousers that breathe and protect against the wind (outer layer).

Toiletries:

Soap, toothpaste, plasters, moisturiser, sun-cream, painkillers, blister tape, mosquito repellent (see the "About Sweden" page on our website for further information about mosquitoes), small first aid kit.

Clothes:

Take clothes you are not afraid to damage. Quick-drying materials are best. Bear in mind that jeans and sweatshirts are difficult to dry. Pack windproof jacket and trousers, warm winter jacket or really warm sweater, boots, shoes, two sets of warm socks made of wool, something to cover your head (windproof), two pair of winter gloves, a scarf, a warm sweater, sweatshirt, T-shirt, shirt, trousers, long sleeved, long-legged underwear 2 sets, a pair of shorts, underwear and something to sleep in.

Also bring training clothes and soft clothes for participation in Qi Gong, yoga etc.

Equipment:

Bedding and towel (if not chosen or included), backpack for day tours 30-45l with belt, sitting mat, water bottle, thermos with cup.

Additional:

Compass and map of the area (map details will be provided after booking – they can also be bought on site), sunglasses, knife, camera, binoculars, plastic box to store your lunch package in.

There is a well-equipped sports store at the station and there are possibilities to rent equipment - you can buy or rent the equipment you need. If it is possible please let them know in advance and check and book so the equipment you need is available. Contact details will be provided after booking.

Health requirements/experience:

You should have a good level of fitness and like the outdoors. Minimum age 25.

Group size:

There is no minimum for this experience.

This experience is open to travellers from all over the world. Groups may be made up of participants from a number of countries, around 60% of whom are likely to be from Scandinavia.

Groups:

It is possible for groups to book this experience - please contact us to discuss your requirements.

Information about the area:

The Grövel Lake and the Grövel Lake Mountains are situated in the northern part of Dalarna. The area is characterized by low mountains and old-growth pine forest and here and there streams and wells break through. Just a couple of kilometres apart lie the sources of the Dalälven and the Klarälven-Götaälv rivers.

The Grövel Lake Mountains are a collective term for the area surrounding the lake which stretches over the border between Sweden and Norway. The highest mountain on the Swedish side is Storvätteshågna at 1,204 m. On the Norwegian side there are a few peaks that reach above 1,200 m. Reachable on a day walk lie Store Svuku and Gröthågna, which are both around 1,400 m. The traces of the Ice Age are tangible and this makes the area geologically interesting.

The mountain flora largely consists of bushy vegetation. In the stream valleys you can find some of the mountains' characteristic plants such as Two-flower Violet and Garden

Angelica. Small rodents, hare, foxes and elk are the mammals visitors can count on seeing. Wolverine, lynx and bear have a secure presence in the area. The lynx and bear population has increased and wolves wander through the area. The Ptarmigan, Siberian Jay and the Scandinavian Dipper are characteristic birds of the area. Of the raptors, Golden Eagle, the Rough-legged Buzzard and the Gyr Falcon breed in the area.

The Merlin population has increased during recent years and are now the most common bird of prey in the area.

Common Sense and the Right of Public Access

Do not disturb, do not destroy – that is the basic principle of Sweden's right of public access. It is not an unrestricted right. Here, you can read about the rules that apply.

The Swedish right of public access is not a law, nor is it an absolute right. It may rather be regarded as an opportunity, one that makes it possible for everyone to enjoy the countryside. But it is an opportunity that requires responsibility, consideration and good judgement. Rules describing the kinds of consideration that must be shown are incorporated into Sweden's environmental law, and apply to everyone who exercises the right of public access.

Respect others' privacy

You may travel through the countryside on foot, bicycle, horse or skis, and temporarily remain in one place, as long as there is no risk that your presence or activities will damage crops, tree plantations or other sensitive areas. But you must respect the privacy of others, and you may not cross or intrude upon private property.

Camping

It is permitted to set up a tent for a day or so on ground that is not used for agriculture and is far from the nearest dwelling. The closer to a residence and the greater the risk of disturbing others, the more important it is to ask the landowner for permission.

Do not litter

All sorts of littering are forbidden in the countryside. A cigarette butt in a dry summer forest can destroy resources worth millions. Glass, tins and bottle caps harm both humans and wildlife, and plastic bags cause great suffering to animals that ingest them. For this reason, bags full of litter should never be left beside rubbish bin if it happens to be full.

Blossoms and berries

You may not take such items as twigs, branches or bark from living trees, including birches. Obviously, you may not take entire shrubs or trees, either. But you are allowed to pick wild berries, flowers and mushrooms, as well twigs and branches that have fallen to the ground. Certain flower species are so rare that they risk becoming endangered. These species are protected and may not be picked. Information about them is available from county administrative boards. Orchids are protected throughout Sweden.

Protected natural areas

Protected natural areas, including nature reserves and national parks, usually have special rules that restrict the right of public access.

More information on the right of public access can be found on our website under About Sweden or on www.allemansratten.se
