Camping pod style

THE POD ONE

According to The Camping and Caravanning Club, camping pods are the most modern way to camp. With sites around the UK in Bellingham, Skye, Eskdale and Thetford Forest, they are built from locally sourced timber and insulated with sheep's wool. Many of the pods also have heating, electric lighting and electric sockets along with a block for barbecues and picnics.
COST £35 per night for up to four people. campingandcaravanningclub.co.uk/alternative-camping/about-pods

THE ROMANTIC ONE

Set on a Leicestershire goat farm, Bluebells tent at Dandelion Hideaway is tucked away from five others (all family orientated) and full of romantic touches such as a chaise longue and candlelit roll-top bath.
COST Three-night weekend breaks from £389 for two, including goodies and wood for the stove and campfires. 01455 292888, thedandelionhideaway.co.uk
